FOUR SPEAK AT LABOR DAY DEMONSTRATION

Eldora Park Thronged Monday to Hear Addresses by Noted Men

TRIBUTE TO UNIONISM

Many Lessons Drawn by Labor Leaders and Politically Prominent Men

Labor forces and politicians mingled at Eldora park Monday in a Labor day demonstration held under the auspices of the Central Trades Council, of Charleroi. From 2,000 to 4,000 people were on the grounds during the day. The chief feature of interest was the speaking by four of those especially invited, but in addition to these there were games, music, amusement devices and dancing.

John J. Oates, of Charleroi, secretary of the special committee of which H. B. Hagan was the chairman, was the chairman of the afternoon meeting. The first speaker was Hugh McLaughlin, of Monongahela, known as the pathfinder of unionism in the Monongahela valley. His address was a treatise of labor conditions. He described labor conditions as they have been in the last 35 years mentioned some of the blessings that have come to the forces of labor, among them being the eight hour law, the organization of labor and child labor law.

John W. Stewart, of Greene county who is a candidate for state senate from the 46th senatorial district compared the position of the farmer with that of the laboring man, and stated that with the two together a force would be constituted that would be hard to beat.

Gifford Pinchot, of Pike county, the former chief forester of the United States who is now contesting for election to the United States senate made an address in which he elaborated to some extent on the subject of labor's needs. He declared the essential factor in the progress of labor in this country was organization. Mr. Pinchot declared vigorously for a workmen's compensation law.

Judge R. W. Irwin of Washington, was the last speaker of the day. He paid high tribute to the dignity of labor. He spoke for improvement in the relations of labor and capital, and declared that both sides should aid in bringing these better relations about.

Chairman Oates read letters and telegrams from some of the speakers.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO RACE

Machines Have Mixup at Belle Vernon Race Track in Labor Day Event

Four men were injured Monday afternoon at the Belle Vernon race track in the three-mile race held under the auspices of the Ohio Firestone racing team, when the "Firestone Bullet," driven by Charles Mayberry, skidded and crashed through an eight-foot fence, after being struck by a Locomobile, driven by George Reed. The two drivers and the mechanists, Harry Warnock and Fred Cable, with the wrecked cars, rolled over a 10-foot embankment. Mayberry was the more seriously injured sustaining several broken ribs and severe bruises. The injured men were taken to the Belle Vernon Hotel in Belle Vernon.

Mayberry was leading with Reed pressing him closely when the steering gear of Mayberry's machine stuck and he was unable to make the turn. As Mayberry crashed into the fence Reed's machine struck the other car and both machines went over the embankment. The one race was called off following the accident.

BENEFIT PERFORMANCE FOR TUBERCULOSIS TENT BRINGS PACKED HOUSE

The benefit performances at the Star theatre Monday for the tuberculosis tent and equipment that has been provided at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital brought large houses. It is believed that the effort will result in a fund of $25 being added to the general fund. Many local people have donated to the tent.

CALLITHUMPIAN CELEBRATION IN HONOR OF NEWLY-WEDS

Monday evening a number of Nat Wycoff's friends got one of the freight trucks from the depot and placing him on a high stool at one end of the truck and his bride of a few days in a chair on the other end of the truck hauled them over the principal streets of the town. They were accompanied by the Charleroi Drum Corps and many children. Red fire was burned. Many wierd and wonderful noises were created by the crowd that followed the truck.

TERRIBLY INJURED IN BREAD MACHINE AT BENTLEYVILLE

Baker Known Only as "Nick" Suffers Crushed Hand and Arm--Taken to Hospital Where Outcome is Doubtful

Monday, an employe of the Model Bakery of Bentleyville had his left hand and arm crushed to a pulp while feeding the huge motor-driven dough mixer. The injured man's name could not be ascertained. The manager of the bakery, Harry Shectar, declares that the man was a temporary employee and there for only two weeks and would give no other name than Nick. It seemed as though the man was reluctant to have his name become known. While standing on a support and pushing the uncertain dough into the hopper so that the mighty mixing arms would grasp it the employe lost his equilibrium and clutched wildly to grasp something that he might not fall to the floor His left arm went wild of the edge of the mixer and slipped into the hopper. One of the mighty mixing arms caught the limb before it could be jerked away. Another employe mixing bread in another part of the shop heard Nick's frightened screams and rushed to his rescue stopping the motor on the first impulse.

He withdrew Nick's fragment of an arm and then rushed for a doctor. Dr. Alexander N Booth was located and rushed to the scene in his automobile. Upon examination of the injury he noticed the seriousness of it and immediately hurried the man to the Memorial hospital in Monongahela. Serious doubts are entertained concerning the outcome of the injury.

OPERATIONS ARE RESUMED TODAY AT MONGAH MINE

Improvements Made Since Shutdown Several Months Ago--Now One of Most Up-To-Date Workings Along River

This morning the Mongah mine of the Pittsburg Coal company opposite Monongahela resumed operations, with approximately 300 men being given work.

This mine has been closed down since April and during the shut down extensive repairs, changes and additions have been made. The entrance is new and is conceded to be one of the finest in the valley. The mine has been completely overhauled and much new machinery placed. A costly and most modern tipple has been erected and it has been said that this company has expended in the vicinity of $70,000 on the Mongah mine since it was closed down.

Every change that has been made has been a part in making Mongah a model up-to-date mine and hustling Barney Burns, the superintendent, will now have a practically new mine outside the entrance while many repairs have been made in the workings. It is expected that 500 men will be working when the mine gets to running right Besides Superintendent Bernard Burns, those in charge are Mine Foreman William Herron and outside Foreman Charles McManigal. With Monga going again together with the American Glass plant in New Eagle Monongahela anticipates a brightening of conditions.

ROADS IN THE COUNTY COMPLETED

The roads which Washington county has had under construction for almost a year have all been completed with the exception of two. Four roads with a total of a little over five mile, have been finished lately, and although not inspected and accepted by the county commisioners they are open for use to the public. They are all of brick.

The list is as follows.

Claysville-Burnsville—Beginning at the state road four miles south of Claysville and extending towards Burnsville 5400 feet; Reed & Liggett, Washington, contractors.

Finleyville-Thomas extension—Beginning at the end of the Finleyville-Thomas road at the H. H. Rainey farm and connecting with the North Strabane township brick road at Thomas store, a distance of 1.7 miles; Collins-Gordon Contracting Co., Pittsburg, contractors.

This leaves only two roads to be completed, the Riverview road, 2,000 feet and the Beallsville-Fredericktown road, 2 miles.

INJURED MINER WILL BE TAKEN HOME

Thomas Wright of Roscoe, who was injured in Vesta 4 mine two weeks ago and was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, where he was operated on, will be taken home next week. His body will be placed in cast so that he can be removed without any danger.

ESCAPES GERMANS AND BELGIAN ARMY SERVICE

J.J. Beerens Tells of Exciting Experiences in Belgium

DID SERVICE AS GUARD

Civic Duty Performed by Charleroi Citizen--Luck Seemingly With Him

After escaping both the Germans and service in the Belgian army, and after experiencing much difficulty in getting out of Belgium, J. J. Beerens, a Fallowfield avenue shoe merchant returned home late Monday night. He had the rarest luck in getting away from the war devastated country where he went, together with his little son, Joseph Albert, the latter part of July.

Mr. Beerens arrived at Antwerp Belgium, on July 27, and his experiences which did not end until he got home Monday night began immediately He went from Antwerp to Sottegen, 30 miles east of Brussels, where his sister lives.

He tells that excitement was intense on August 4, when the Belgians first knew for a reality that they would be included in the warring nations of Europe. They had, Mr. Beerens says, been mobilizing their army previous to that time.

Liege, where hard fighting was centered was 100 miles away from where he was stopping, but he saw in Brussels prisoners and wounded men as they were brought in. Some of the Belgian soldiers carried with them German helmets as trophies. Belgian soldiers complained to Mr. Beerens that the reason for their ultimate defeat was that they were outnumbered by Germans. Six Belgians would stand up against ten Germans anytime, they argued, but that ratio was outdone. Soldiers of the Belgians said that the German privates were compelled absolutely to fight. If they drew back they ran the chance of being shot by their officers. Among the prisoners taken some queer sights were observed by Mr. Beerens. Among them was that of a German officer who refused to stay with German privates and took the alternative of being locked up in a separate prison not as good as his privates enjoyed. Mr. Beerens

POLICE COURT A BUSY PLACE

Hearings of Monday Evening Bring Out Rather Unusual Testimony

Burgess S. L. Woodward's court was busy Monday evening. The first case to be heard was against Walter Vanderslice for attempting to run his automobile near the Coyle theatre Saturday evening, when the engine was backfiring. Burgess Woodward discharged him with a reprimand.

The next case was of rather mixed character. Mrs. Lena Nardi had Susie Gerlo and Mrs. Maggie Orsolina arrested for fighting her, and they in turn had her arrested. The police thought it best to have them all so. August Orsolina, Maggie's husband was brought along.

It seems that Mrs. Nardi had had a fight of some kind with the other two women in which they called each other names and made threats to cut with a hatchet and do other bodily harm. After listening to all of them for some time Burgess Woodward discharged them all with a warning as to what they would receive the next time they faced him.

The last case called was that of Paul Maslronicorla and A. Tillondonesi charged with fighting. After trying to get them to talk one at a time Burgess Woodward fined both of them $1 and costs.

COLLINS' STORE SHOWS EVIDENCE OF SYSTEMATIC AND RAPID GROWTH

Former Traveling Salesman Making Good in Fallowfield Avenue Location Through Conservative Management

STORE ENLARGED WITHIN THE LAST FEW MONTHS

Here the [illegible] people as to which store in the borough possesses the largest ground floor space a variety of answers might be the result. Perhaps some would answer that the store of Louis Collins on Fallowfield avenue is it, and they probably would win the prize. Mr. Collins' [illegible] department store is located close to the home of [illegible]

Mr. Collins was for a number of years a traveling salesman for a Wheeling drygoods [illegible] but his ambition was not satisfied as he felt it should be for remunerative. The consequence was that he decided to enter business for himself. Knowing the drygoods business thoroughly and knowing the value of locating in a rapidly growing community, he headed for the Monongahela valley.

He came to Charleroi in 1899 to open up a store at 521 Fallowfield avenue. From the first he handled men's furnishings. Growth of his store, under conservative management and by the employment of up-to-date business tactics, was sure and rapid.

As his business increased Mr. Collins made preparations and laid plans for future expansion, so that within the last year he has added two large rooms to his store. He built one store room for himself and rented [illegible]. Expanding has always afforded him ample opportunity for expanding his trade so that [illegible] possible for a man, and his [illegible] from here to [illegible] in the present establishment.

[illegible] Mr. Collins opened up the present [illegible] His business has grown so rapidly that at [illegible] plans for remodeling the present [illegible] of this department [illegible] and rearrangement of the establishment.

Since coming to Charleroi Mr. Collins has made his presence felt in other ways besides merchandising. He has acquired considerable real estate. He owns property on Fallowfield avenue and possesses a fine residence at 218 Washington avenue. He is a member of the Business Men's Association, having been actively identified with the affairs of this organization for years.

Mr. Collins is a man who keeps alive to the ever changing conditions that confronts a successful merchant handling a general line. That he has progressed until he is numbered among one of the community's leading merchants is due solely to his own resourcefulness, persistency and business-like administration of fiscal affairs.

AUSTRIANS SUFFER IS WORD RECEIVED

Men of all classes between the ages of 20 and 42 are being pressed into military service and professional and business men above 42 years are being drafted into the service as menials by the Austro-Hungarian government. Horses are being taken from the residents of the country without pay, the government giving notes for them. Food is scarce in the warring countries as all passenger and freight trains are being used. The crops are rotting in the fields because there are no men to do the harvesting.

This state of affairs was described in a letter received at Uniontown by Sam Goldstein, from his father, a retired farmer living in Budapest, Austro-Hungary. The letter was dated August 11 and was written in Hungarian.

That Supreme Court Justice S. Leslie Mestrezat, of Uniontown, is probably on his way home was conveyed by a post card received from him by Attorney Robert F. Hopwood. The card which was dated August 24, contains the following message: "We are still stranded but hope to sail Saturday next. Americans are rushing here with all speed. We are hourly expecting a big battle to begin across the channel. The anxiety is simply awful. We get very little news. All are sore. The sentiment for war is unanimous."

PRODUCED THE CASH

President Wodrow Wilson personally appeared at the congress of the United States on Friday and demanded that ways and means be speedily adopted to provide the government with an additional $1000,000,000 annually in revenues.

President Wilson's demand should be satisfied. The government needs the money, and what this government needs it should have.

But in all decency the needs of the government should not be charged entirely to the foreign war.

The government needs an immense amount of revenue simply and solely because the Democratic free trade tariff has not only distressed the whole country, but it has caused an aching void in the government's cash drawer.

The President should put the blame for the country's distress, and the shortage of revenues, where the blame belongs.

In the mean time the $100,000,000 so badly needed should be provided, and provided in the face of the fact that this country is at peace with the world.

The Democratic congress has been in session almost continuously since the advent of the Democratic administration, and has been the most profligate in the history of the nation. Economy has had no part in the plan of either the administration or the congress. First an income tax, and now a stamp tax. The foreign war has, beyond question, complicated matters, and has interferred to an extent with our revenues, but the cold and undeniable fact is that the Democratic administration has been a complete consumate and failure. Its legislation designed to raise revenue has been a fraud and a humiliation to the entire country, and has distressed business and hampered industries, and all in the face of this particular plank in the Democratic platform which had much to do with elevating the Democracy to power.

We denounce the profligate waste of the money wrung from the people by oppressive taxation through the lavish appropriations of recent Republican congress which have kept taxes high and reduced the purchasing power of the people's toil. We demand a return to that simplicity and economy which befits a democratic government, and a reduction in the number of useless offices, the salaries of which drain the substance of the people.

CONSERVATION

The involvement of the larger portion of the civilized world in warfare, the frightful destruction of human life due to modern arms and the vastness of the operations has focused the attention and has cast gloom over the minds of all thinking men, says Dr. Samuel G. Dixon in his weekly health and hygiene talk.

Within a generation phenomenal strides have been made toward the conservation of mankind throughout the world. We have begun to learn how to preserve the weak and protect the strong from disease. Already the efforts along these lines have resulted in enormous economic savings and have made possible gigantic monuments to the constructive ability of mankind such as the Panama Canal.

When the great nations of the world are sending the flower of their manhood to destruction it is almost natural to feel that efforts to conserve life are ephemeral. However, when the work of destruction has ceased the work of re-building must begin. The economic struggle for existence will be keener than ever before in the history of the world and the conservation of the health of the peoples struggling to recuperate will be a still greater factor in their efforts to regain their physical and economic equilibrium.

As a nation we are in a unique and important position; to maintain which we will need sound bodies and sane minds.

Let us continue with redoubled vigor the work of improving individual and public health.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

When a young woman called up a certain office recently for the express purpose of finding out if a certain male friend employed there was intending to carry out a previous engagement to "come up," she got the wrong person on the line through the similarity of names. This is the conversation that took place:

"Hello, is this P——?"

"Yes, this is P——."

"Well, how are you?"

"Oh, all right, but who——?"

"What I wanted to ask you, are you coming up Sunday?"

"Me come up!" exclaimed the man. "Heavens, I'm married—I can't. Who are you?"

"Who is this talking?" she demanded, warmly.

"This is P——."

"Well I don't want you. Good bye."

At the reunion of the Scott-Carson families at the Joseph Carson woodland Saturday, Hon Cornelius Carson related some of the experiences of the early settlers of that connection in Washington county. He told one story of his grandfather, one of the pioneers.

According to Mr. Carson, human communication was difficult because of the lack of conveniencess and because neighbors were usually neighbors more in name than reality, living from 25 to 50 or 100 miles distant from one another.

"My grandfather," he said "once traded off a farm for a shotgun in this county. It wasn't because he wanted the shotgun so much needed it, but because he wanted neighbors and needed them."

Uncle Sam Will Test Your Watch.

Regular testing of watches for the public was inaugurated by the United States bureau of standards recently, thus taking up the testing and certification of watches in a similar manner to that carried on by the Kew observatory in England the Besancon observatory in France and the Geneva and Neuchatel observatories in Switzerland. Preliminary tests upon the various types and makes of American watches have already been made, the results of which have been the modification of European testing methods and the establishment of certain standards of tolerances for practical service. The possession of a government certificate will enable the owner of a "certified watch" to know that he has a timepiece which conforms to the average and reasonable performances of high-grade adjusted watches. The fees for tests will merely cover the actual cost of the trials.

ESCAPES ARMY SERVICE

says Germans were splendidly treated.

Mr. Beerens engaged in civic guard duty at a little town near Sottegen for a time. Volunteers were called for and a conscription taken for active service in the Belgian army. When he went abroad Mr. Beerens failed to take out citizenship papers as an American citizen, and he had to draw a number as a possible conscript. Low numbers meant service, if the drawer were of the right age. A high number placed the drawer in a class not likely to be called upon. As it happened Mr. Beerens drew a high number, and his age also tended to free him from any call to arms. As a matter of fact, he explains, the volunteers were so numerous that it was not necessary to call upon all those secured by conscription.

In Brussels about the middle of August Mr. Beerens received the report that the Germans were but a few miles distant. He hurried off to his sister's home. There a report came that Brussels had been occupied by the Germans, who were marching to Sottegen. He tried to get a train, but no information could be secured, and apparently no trains would run. He prepared a bicycle with a seat in front for his small son and prepared a suitcase as a knapsack to carry on his back. Then unexpectedly a train put in appearance by which he was enabled to get to Courtrai. From there he made his way in spite of much difficulty to Ostend. At Ostend he managed to get a boat for London. Before leaving he saw a British torpedo boat entering the Ostend harbor and four other warships lying just off the harbor. They were reported ready to strike if the German troops tried to get to Ostend. "I learned afterwards before I left England," says Mr. Beerens, "that the British had landed marines in Ostend."

It was partly through the influence of an United States consul that Mr. Beerens was able to get away from Belgium, and his booking of passage from London to Montreal, was pure luck. He was unable at first to get any promise of accommodation on any steamer short of three weeks, but finally he wandered into an office where the agent found quite unexpectedly for him a cabin.

Among the worst things noticeable in Belgium according to Mr. Beerens was that of people leaving their homes as the Germans advanced. People made themselves paupers by leaving all behind as they fled. Heart-breaking scenes were to be seen on every hand.

ELDORA PARK THIS WEEK TO BE BUSY PLACE

Some of the most pleasing events of the entire park season at Eldora park will feature the closing week. The big Labor day events constitute a good prelude to the variety of functions to follow.

On Tuesday evening the last dance of the series which Mrs. J. Jenkins, of Monogahela has been holding during the summer, will be held. These events have proven particularly interesting during the entire season, and have brought together large crowds each week.

The valley newspaper men and probably some guests from Pittsburg will attend a corn roast and supper at the park on Wednesday evening, when the management will entertain at the annual newspaper gathering there. On the same night the Young Ladies' Hebrew Association of Monessen will give a dance on the pavilion.

Thursday night the Colonial Football club of Monessen have the dancing rights, and propose to hold a dance to aid them in raising a fund for the team the coming season.

Weber's dance on Friday will be his last and on Saturday night the park will close for the season.

SETBACK FOR THE OPTIMIST

According to Pessimist, He Had Failed Utterly to See Things in Their Proper Light.

"Look at this, will you?" exclaimed the cheerful real estate man. "In this paper there is a record of eighty-seven marriage licenses issued yesterday."

"Well, what of it?" said his partner, the pessimist of the firm.

"What of it?" echoed the other. "Can't you see? Those eighty-seven marriage licenses mean eighty-seven marriages. The eighty-seven marriages will lead to eighty-seven inquiries for houses, flats, or at least eligible apartments. It's bound to stimulate business in our line and we'll get our share."

"That doesn't follow at all. Those eighty-seven licenses represent 174 persons don't they?"

"Yes."

"Probably all adults?"

"I did check, what of it?"

"Nothing," growled the pessimist; "except that 174 persons who have hitherto occupied 174 apartments will hereafter occupy eighty-seven, and that ain't helping our business any. You make me tired."

CHARLEROI WINS TWO GAMES FROM MONESSEN TEAM

After Charleroi had walloped Monessen in a twelve inning game on the local lot Labor Day morning, it took the humbled Pages to Monessen and completed the day's work by walloping them again, this time in an eleven inning game by the score of 5 to 3. Moreover, Swaney, who had won the morning game by his superb pitching and clever batting, twirled the whole business in the afternoon, and took his share of the batting honors.

Swaney was right there in the afternoon with the goods after the [illegible] True, Monessen scored all their runs in the first inning on hits and a sacrifice, but after that there wasn't much use of Monessen batting any batters. They occasionally did get a hit but they couldn't get two in succession, which ended their hopes.

Charleroi traveled easily until the fourth inning, when it began to accomplish results. Two scores were tallied then on one hit and two errors. In the ninth another run was scored on two singles.

The tie remained until the eleventh. In its time to bat, Charleroi scored two that Monessen could not equal. This was accomplished through two singles, one by Miller and one by Motts Score:

SIDEWALK QUESTION UP AT BENTLEYVILLE

In a recent ordinance the council decreed that all persons having property touching on the bricked streets and avenues in the borough of Bentleyville should construct a substantial sidewalk along such portions of the property that bounded the bricked street or avenue. Several instances have occurred wherein people neglected to have the required portions of sidewalk constructed. The borough ordered that the walks be constructed and with no results in the allotted time the borough had the walks constructed, forcing the property holders either to pay for the construction or suffer a mortgage for the amount on their property. Many rods of sidewalks have been laid in accordance with the ordinance and soon wide cement sidewalks will stretch on either side of all bricked streets and avenues.

Comparison With Cave Man

Everything considered, it is possible that the cave-man had an advantage over us For though his words were few in number he had few ideas to voice, few thoughts to express, few activities to advance, and these were all of such a nature that his grunt was encyclopaedic in its ability to explain On the other hand, life is now so complex that with all our words, inflections, accents, mimicry, postures and gestures we are often unable to make our meaning perfectly clear.

CLAYBAUGH AND MILLIKEN KNOWN WIDELY AS UP-TO-DATE DEALERS

McKean Avenue Shoe Firm Among Leading of Communi y Through Systamatic Methods and Earnest Desire to Please

SALES FORCE POPULAR--STORE IS KEPT NEAT

A style and example of the progressive methods of modern merchants is found in the Claybaugh & Milliken successful shoe merchants.

When asked what he considers to be the contributing factor to his success Mr. Milliken answered in one word, "Service. Those who know his store can say, "Unusual Service" Here he has fully developed the idea store-keeping idea viz: that the store should be a servant to the community. Everything possible to contribute to the peoples happiness is done.

When a man wants a new pair of shoes they are ready to suit his pleasure with the splendid assortment. For instance he may choose from the newest models of such good lines as the famous Walk-over shoes, A. E. Nettleton Co's shoes, J. E. Tilt shoes and their brand C. M. shoes.

If he buys a pair of shoes and is not entirely satisfied he need have no fears about returning them. They are exchanged without a whimper. To quote Mr. Milliken "handling as large a quantity of shoes as we do, a few imperfect pairs are very apt to slip by our watchful scrutiny. Of course we reduce these to the minimum by buying only of reputable manufacturers. But when a customer gets a pair he does in the greatest possible service by exchanging them."

The firm of Mr. Claybaugh and Milliken give another unusual service their expert assistants, Miss Bertha Parton and Miss Bessie Strond, are in constant touch with the newest in styles. So when a customer is undecided about which shoe will harmonize best with her new frock, they can give her authoritive style advice.

Of course they have splendid material to work with. Such shoes as Queen Quality, Pingree made Armstrong, Walk-Over and Sherwood shoes need no further description. They also handle those famous slippers—Foxy Footery—made by Chas. K. Fox

Mr. Kramin's artistic window trims add no little to the beauties of this Charleroi store. All who are attracted by them to the store itself will find it an ideal place to shop. Plenty of light, fresh air and sunshine are to be found on every side. So well is it arranged that the large crowds which frequently gather can be handled with alacrity and ease. Many old timers will go nowhere else for their shoes, having bought them in the same building for twenty years. Claybaugh and Milliken opened their store May 1, 1911.

STRAW THATCHPIECE DOOMED SEPTEMBER 15

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary to wear a straw hat on and after Tuesday, September 15th, warning is hereby given that own risk and upon his own responsibility. For be it known that it has been written in the book of things as they be that certain burgesses are now being asked to semi-officially designate the above stated day as Hat Day. On this day the straw lid will, with fitting ceremonies, be lifted.

The good old straw lid, kelly, dicer, bonnet, sky-piece, chapeau, tile, headgear, or whatever you may feel moved to call it, is doomed. The pronunciamento has gone forth. The straw hat must go on or before that date.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Praises This Remedy for Lung Trouble

Many people are led to believe that Lung Trouble is a disease which cannot be conquered. This is wrong, as many have fully recovered their health. A change of climate has helped some, but many more have been restored to health by breathing the freshest air, eating well-cooked, wholesome food, being temperate in their habits and adding the tonic qualities of Eckman's Alterative, a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles. Investigate this case:—

Bowling Green, Ky., R. No. 4.

"Gentlemen: The spring of 1895 I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended to me, but no results came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last, James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, insisted that I try your medicine. In one week's time there was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I firmly believe that Eckman's Alterative will relieve any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage."

(Affidavit) A. C. BETTERSWORTH.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Scrofulous Cases and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenues in excess of the interest on said debt or debts, and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted; Provided, That a sinking-fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so that it shall read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate at any one time upon such valuation. The debt of [illegible] hereinafter set forth may increase its indebtedness to the extent of [illegible] per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for [illegible] of the following purposes,—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, surface railways, and other transit facilities for the construction and development of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount at which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the current rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness [illegible] of said city [illegible] at the time of [illegible]

[illegible] which shall have been incurred, and such city shall not be [illegible] to levy a tax to pay such interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.
